

Council Wants Northgate Suspended

By FRANK LAPIERRE
In an unanimous action Monday the Daly City Council ordered the city staff to officially petition the State Utilities Commission asking the operating license for Northgate Transit Co. be suspended.

The action came following lengthy debate between representatives of Northgate Transit and Daly City Transit Systems, Inc. during a special council meeting held for that purpose at City Hall.

Since April 9 operations of Northgate Transit have ceased after the PUC ordered the company's buses off the roads when insurance coverage was terminated.

The new company, made up of dissident bus driver-owners who previously worked for Northgate, informed the council it was prepared to immediately take over the city routes and could obtain necessary insurance.

Attorney Duane Garrett, representing the new company, asked for a firm indication from the council that the city would grant a permit to Daly City Transit Systems before taking the issue to court to ask that a temporary injunction against the company be lifted.

The injunction was filed several weeks ago at the insistence of Northgate Transit Co. when the new company began operating on Daly City streets.

It prohibits the new company from picking up or discharging riders on routes being serviced by Northgate.

Garrett said taking the issue back into court was costly and asked for the assurance from the council.

But it was pointed out by the council that its hands are tied in issuance of a permit until the matter is settled before the PUC and in the courts.

Garrett agreed there was the possibility of a lawsuit being filed by Northgate against the city, but he said there were times when risks had to be run.

"You can't make an omelette without breaking the eggs," Garrett said.

Before making their decision, the councilmen had some harsh words for Northgate's operation in the city.

Councilman Paul Hupf, an attorney and former municipal judge, asked Northgate General Manager Carlos Panagua why the insurance was cancelled?

Panagua said the insurance carrier, National Indemnity, told him there had been too many accidents involving buses.

He blamed the drivers and not the buses, which he said were in good mechanical shape.

When the company begins operations again depends on when insurance coverage can be obtained.

"I cannot say when we will go back I don't know when we will get insurance," Panagua said.

Hupf asked why the city should continue to support Northgate in the light of past performance by the company.

"Mr. Hupf, I can only continue to give you my good faith," Panagua answered.

"What good is good faith to the people of Daly City when there is no transportation provided for them?" Hupf countered.

Councilman Tony Giammona asked Panagua if it was true the California Highway Patrol had checked the Northgate buses for possible safety hazards on orders of the PUC.

"That's correct," Panagua said.

"Maybe that's why National Indemnity cancelled your insurance," Giammona said.

Echoing Hupf's dissatisfaction with Northgate's attitude on the issue, Giammona said he was "not in a position to just sit and wait" for the company to start operation again.

Mayor Victor Kyriakis asked:

"Yes, perhaps with the Travelers Insurance Company," Panagua said.

Stewart condemned Northgate's operation calling it absolutely sloppy.

George Ferris, a Northgate director, said his operation was the only one in the country operating out of the fare box without a tax on the community.

And he has strived to continually maintain his equipment in top shape, Ferris said.

The company, according to Ferris, went downhill after he was hospitalized last year.

He assured the council Northgate buses would be back on the streets "before the end of this week."

Firemen's Odd Discovery

Daly City firemen were more than mildly amazed when they answered a fire call at the Hillside home of Hilton Keating last week.

Inside the home they allegedly found several shopping carts, display counters and a meat freezer—all believed to be owned by a nearby shopping market.

Apparently, the Mission Brownwood supermarket, formerly Mission Market, decided to renovate the interior of the store and had placed store equipment on a rear platform, a police investigator said.

Police said they intend to find out where Keating obtained the shopping carts, freezer, and display shelves.

LAFCO Raps Action

Colma Joins Fire District

By FRANK LAPIERRE
A "quirk in the law" has allowed the Town of Colma to join the Colma Fire District almost overnight and without fanfare, causing a landslide of criticism from neighboring Daly City and the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO).

On April 9 the Colma City Council, in a 4-1 vote, opted to be included in the Colma Fire District "upon unconditional approval of this ordinance by the Board of the Fire District."

April 5, three members of the Fire District Board—Attilio Conserva, Paul Sanguinetti and Leslie V. Bales—approved the inclusion of Colma into the district.

This now allows the Town of Colma to share in the ownership of real property accumulated over the years.

Daly City City Mgr. David Rowe called Colma's action in the matter "grossly unfair" and rapped the council for taking such annexation action while his city is under a moratorium not to proceed with any annexations pending a LAFCO decision on a sphere of influence for the entire area.

LAFCO Executive Director B. Sherman Coffman called both the Town of Colma and Fire District's actions "irresponsible."

Coffman said he found the move by both agencies "nothing less than shocking."

"I cannot understand why the (Colma) council would take this irresponsible action knowing full well a study is underway," he said.

Coffman, calling Colma "a cozy little city," said LAFCO has cooperated with the cemetery city on several occasions, including de-annexation of a mobile home park "because they (Colma) didn't want any extra votes in the city."

But Colma Mayor Fred Garbini, who pushed the annexation plan, defended his council's action, explaining all concerned would benefit from the move.

"We have been paying into the Colma Fire District for many years and have nothing to show for it," Garbini said. "Now we are a full-fledged member of the district, we may get more favorable fire insurance rates."

Garbini said the matter was not railroaded through the council, and that it was published and made public on council meeting agenda—a point Rowe had disputed.

"Everything we did was legal," Garbini said. Colma contracted the fire district for protection at a point Rowe had disputed.

LAFCO Backs Blossom Valley Annexation

Two annexations, one to the city of Daly City and the other to the town of Woodside, were approved Wednesday by the San Mateo County Local Agency Formation Commission.

Soon to join Daly City upon approval of the city council is the 43-acre Blossom Valley subdivision, including the John F. Kennedy School property. There are only two registered voters in the area to be annexed, so it is considered "uninhabited" under the law and no election will be necessary to affirm the annexation.

Approved for annexation to the town of Woodside are six acres of land bounded by Stockbridge Avenue and Alameda de las Pulgas.

Although 20 property owners reside in the area, no election will be necessary there because the owners are 100 per cent in favor of the annexation.

B. Sherman Coffman, executive officer for the commission, said that the annexation will require the Board of Supervisors to transfer the area from the Fourth Supervisorial District to the Third District after the annexation is confirmed by the town council.

Kites Fly on San Bruno Mountain

KITE FLYING FESTIVAL

The Inter-School Committee to Save San Bruno Mountain sponsored a "kite flying festival" on Saturday. Kite races, demonstrations and a kite exhibition were included. David Sharkey, shown at left in top hat with Julie Anderson, Miss San Bruno Mountain, is chairman of the committee of high school and college students. "We want people to see how beautiful the Mountain really is," Sharkey said. "We feel this is a very positive way for all people to learn why the Mountain must be saved."

Miss Pacifica Pageant To Be Held Saturday

Miss Pacifica will be chosen from among eight contestants at the annual Miss Pacifica Pageant Saturday night at Terra Nova High School, with a chance at the Miss California and possibly even Miss America titles at stake.

The curtain goes up at 8 p.m. in the Terra Nova gym, with another sellout crowd of 2,000 expected. Tickets reportedly are almost sold out and can be obtained from any of the contestants.

Pacific Chamber of Commerce office or the El Adobe Barber Shop.

The eight aspiring girls are Vickie Porche, Linda Blaine, Kathy Pritchett, Patricia Clinton, Cheryl Tenney, Chuckie Bradshaw, Francesa Metz and Ruth Cotter.

Theme of the show, which will include beauty, poise and talent demonstrations by the contestants, is "Movin' On."

There also will be solo numbers by Teri Miller, Miss Pacifica of 1975, and master of ceremonies Kevin Reynolds, lead vocalist for the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City, N.J.

Special guests will be Lucianne Buchanan, Miss California of 1974 and the Miss American runner-up last year, dancer Becky McDord; the Patti Macdonald Singers; and the performers from Benny Smith's Academy of Dance.

Cutback On Park Plans

Daly City is expected to cut back the size of its proposed Lincoln Park expansion from four acres to some two acres, it was revealed Thursday.

The anticipated move comes on the heels of a meeting between some 40 property owners and city officials at the War Memorial Building April 15.

Attending the meeting on behalf of the city was Mayor Victor Kyriakis, City Manager David Rowe, Recreation Superintendent Charles Vincent and Recreation Commissioner Al Kane.

Instead of expanding the park through condemnation of private homes surrounding the park within a two-block area, the city will limit its project to one block adjacent to the existing park, it was learned.

Water Rate Hike Proposal Advanced

Some Daly City residents might be hit with a higher water bill before the summer is over.

If it is passed, following public hearings on the matter before the city council, the average water user in the city now paying a $10 bi-monthly fee, would experience a $1.50 increase, it was explained.

An adjustment must be made in the water user rate scale, City Manager David Rowe proposed to the council during a public study session Monday because of increased costs of operation. Rowe said it was believed most seniors and persons on fixed income are in a "lower water user" grouping and their billings would not reflect an increase, according to Rowe's proposal.

The reason for the raise, according to Rowe, is that since 1970 PG&E has raised its utility rates by 32.8 per cent. San Francisco has increased its water charges to Daly City by 17.4 per cent, and city salaries have risen 19.8 per cent.

Rowe said his staff has analyzed revenue and cost projections for the next several years and recommended the rate increase—amounting to some 15-17 per cent overall.

JESD Contract to Servicar

Servicar of Foster City Wednesday was granted the Jefferson Elementary School District's pupil transportation contract for next year.

The firm will charge the district $89.50 for each 66-passenger vehicle for a four-hour period daily and $89.50 for six-hour service.

Interim Health Center Director Named

Shelly Fernandez, the woman who started the movement to have a health center in Daly City eight years ago, has been named interim director of the Guadalupe Health Center—without pay.

Mrs. Fernandez told The Post today she will take time off from her busy schedule as a national Board Director of NOW (National Organization for Women) and vice principal of George Washington and General Pershing schools in Daly City to head the strife-torn clinic.

Last week at a meeting of the Guadalupe Health Center Board of Directors, Ms. Fernandez volunteered her services.

She now works in her off school hours—from 6-8 a.m. and 4-midnight—for the center, in an effort to get it back on an even keel, she said.

Calling herself "a very organized person," Ms. Fernandez said, "I'll simply give up sleeping for awhile."

She was optimistic of the future of Guadalupe, explaining that reorganization was necessary to provide local health care.

Later, perhaps, the pre-paid medical plan will again be pushed.

Meanwhile, she praised the current board of directors, saying "They are good, strong people."

She intends to change that, she said.

In recent months, the center has undergone one crisis after another.

First, Ed Rivera, center director was terminated.

He was replaced by Shirley Calhoun, who later was terminated.

A split in the board of directors over Miss Calhoun (also known as Shirley Rae Bradford) resulted in Center Treasurer Maria Borrego, and other directors' allegations of financial records of the center and turning them over to police.

Dr. Amparo Haskell was terminated, but refused to leave the clinic.

She was later given a court injunction to keep away from the clinic.

That issue was pending at press time.

Another physician, Dr. Ray Donovan, has handed in his resignation, purportedly to further his studies.

In the face of all this turmoil, patients visiting the center at 75 Wellington Ave. have been cared for, it was learned.

Ms. Fernandez found a need for a clinic to care for minority and low income people in 1968.

She and Marlene Espinoza began meeting with medical authorities around the city.

Together, Ms. Fernandez and Ms. Espinoza worked out a project to care for the needy with Mary's Help

Bishop: Pro-Abortion Stand 'Scandalous'

By RICK SULLIVAN
Calling Christian feminists "scandalous and hypocritical," the Rev. Leo T. Maher, Bishop of San Diego defended Wednesday his controversial declaration that sacraments will not be given to members of the National Organization for Women.

The greying 59-year-old bishop, interviewed by reporters at Vallombrosa Center in Menlo Park, said, "As the spiritual leader of the community, I felt it was my responsibility to speak out against abortion and to make clear the church's stand on the issue."

Recently Bishop Maher sent a letter to pastors of parishes in the San Diego diocese, instructing that it be read at all masses. The bishop ordered priests to refuse to administer the sacraments to any person publicly acknowledging favor of abortions.

Bishop Maher singled out NOW for its "blatant" public position calling for the liberalization of abortion laws.

"By taking the stand that I have, I have reaffirmed the clear teachings of the church, and have reassured the youth of my diocese of the integrity of the church."

"I have seen people professing to be Catholics and at the same time speaking out for abortion. Most of these persons are members of NOW, who believe that a woman has control over her own body and possesses the right to decide how that body is to be used," Bishop Maher said.

"How they can hold this belief and still call themselves Catholic is scandalous and hypocritical. And there's nothing Our Lord condemns more than scandal and hypocrisy."

The actions of Bishop Maher were discussed, at least privately, last week during a conference of diocese leaders from the western states. Bishops and priests met at the Vallombrosa Center, a retreat house near St. Patrick's Seminary.

Bishop Maher said at the press conference Wednesday he had talked informally with other bishops about his recent statement, and all of them, he said, sympathized with his position.

Asked if he expects other bishops to make statements similar to his, Bishop Maher emphatically declared, "The circumstances warrant action by all other bishops."

He said that although the Rev. Joseph McGucken, archbishop of the San Francisco diocese, had not publicly declared sacraments would be denied pro-abortionists, Bishop Maher said he had talked with him during the conference and that Archbishop McGucken indicated he agreed with his recent directive.

Bishop Maher said Catholics in San Diego who publicly declared pro-abortion sentiments, would be denied not only communion, but extreme unction, a blessing and absolution performed for the dying. He said absolution would be withheld until pro-abortionists repented, and said those favoring abortion would not be married by the church.

Bishop Maher's ruling affects only those Catholics in the San Diego diocese. Priests interviewed in San Mateo County said they would continue to administer the sacraments to all Catholics who asked for them, until Archbishop McGucken ruled otherwise.

One North San Mateo County pastor, who asked not to be identified, expressed some concern that the abortion issue had come into the "forefront." The pastor said he wished the issue hadn't been brought up at all by Bishop Maher.

A BISHOP REPLIES

Roman Catholic Bishop Leo Maher of San Diego explains to the press at Menlo Park his views.

"I wish the issue would have been left alone. If it had remained in San Diego, where it started, and not become a national issue, we wouldn't be in the mess we are in now."

The bishop's current statements are going to force other bishops to take public action on abortion. It's going to force a lot of hands," the pastor said.

Shelly Fernandez, a Daly

City educator who serves on the National Board of Directors of NOW, condemned the bishop's directive as "ridiculous and incredible."

Vista Grande Possible Closing Hit

By WILL E. THOMAS
Post Editor

Parents Wednesday night condemned an informal proposal to close Daly City's 191-pupil Vista Grande School and lease it to the county's Children's Development Center for severely physically handicapped and mentally retarded pupils.

Jefferson Elementary School District Supt. Herbert Hemington and Ellen Allan, director of the development center, outlined the idea to trustees.

Hemington said the district will close one school either this year or next because of declining enrollment, and he hopes a profitable use for an abandoned facility can be found.

The development center director approached the district about a possible site and Ms. Allan, Hemington and some parents toured district facilities.

Vista Grande is one of the district's four smallest schools, and the district probably will close one of them. The others being looked at are Olympia, 217; Crocker, 198; and General Pershing, 204.

The suggestion that Vista Grande be closed came when Ms. Allan said the hilltop school was the most suitable site for the development.

Seven children from the Daly City-Colma region attend the county center, which is now housed in a Bayshore (also Daly City) School District facility.

Hemington said the district could save an estimated $72,000 in closing the school, through elimination of staff and overhead.

In addition, minimum of some 11 cents per square foot could be expected in leasing the facility to the county, according to John Lynch, district business manager.

However, Hemington acknowledged that transportation costs would chop away at the total "savings" because pupils would be bused to other schools.

A group of parents criticized the proposal, particularly for its lack of information from the administration on where their children would be sent and how they would get there.

The school was called "isolated" in an area where youngsters do not cross major streets. Two schools within possible walking distance for older pupils are John F. Kennedy on Guadalupe Canyon Road and Colma Intermediate on Market Street, but the parents said they feared for children's safety in those heavily trafficked areas.

They also objected to "sacrificing 190 lives" to provide a facility for the center's 70 handicapped children.

Hemington and the trustees dwelled on the district's need to close one school.

However, the parents would not accept closure of Vista Grande as a solution to declining enrollment problems. In fact, they said, Vista Grande enrollment has been stable over the years.

Associate Supt. Vinton Stratton said the 190-pupil enrollment is expected to hold next year.

Trustees acknowledged that no matter which neighborhood school is eliminated, parents will oppose it.

They promised no action would be taken without further study and that a hearing would be held in whatever school was chosen for closure.

There was no indication the trustees favored the Vista Grande proposal.

Trustee Beverly Forrester said the district first will select a school to close, based on district enrollment and economic needs, then consider offers to lease the shutdown facility.

"Our purpose is to serve the pupils in the district, normal or handicapped," said Trustee Alvin Schwarzbach. "We have to look at costs and the impact closing a school will have on the district."

He said he could not make a decision until he knows where the children would go, and that would be determined when the district decides which school must be closed.

Administrators said there is a surplus of classrooms in the district, even though the small schools are filled to capacity.

Hemington said the district wants to close a school which would disrupt the fewest children.

Trustee Dorothy Adams said placement of students from a small school into a larger facility would reduce the overhead per child.

Hemington said enrollment has dipped by 600 since Jefferson ("Little Jeff") was closed at the start of the 1974-75 term.

He said Olympia School could be closed, but that no agency was interested in leasing it.

"I think everyone is aware of what would happen if a school is left vacant," Hemington said, referring to the likelihood of heavy vandalism.

"Even if you're there, there's vandalism," a man from the audience hooted. Ms. Allan said students from throughout the county are taught at the development center.

She said it is neither profitable nor feasible for any one district to establish such a school "or even a class."

The facility in the Bayshore District is not ideal, she said, and two injuries have been recorded because of falls down stairs.

What kind of child attends the special center?

Ms. Allan told of a 6-year-old who was hit by a truck en route to school, of a 2-year-old struck by a car, of one badly burned student and of several suffering cerebral palsy.

The center accepts children from 3 to 21 years of age, she said. "The state will not finance construction of a special school because so many districts in the county have surplus rooms, she told the trustees.

Pilot Program Extension OK'd

The South San Francisco Unified School District agreed April 16 to extend for one year an innovative pilot program at Westborough Junior High School.

The program requires eighth graders, with few exceptions to enroll in home economics or industrial arts courses in lieu of English courses.

But the board did build a stipulation into its approval of the program that will make it easier for students to bypass these two subject areas.

Through consultation with school principal, students may be excused from taking home economics and industrial arts. Previously, parents had to receive permission from Thomas Gaffney, assistant superintendent for instruction.

Opinions among parents and educators on the merits of the program were divided. Edna delarios, principal of Westborough Junior High School, said a questionnaire sent to parents indicated that most were pleased with the program. But only 37.5 per cent responded. She interpreted this as meaning, "no news is good news."

One parent read a letter that was written by Albert Nutt, an English teacher and parent.

"The problem is not the courses themselves," he said. "The problem with your curriculum is that you require certain courses with out giving parents the option of other courses they prefer."

"An English course will help my daughter do better on the Scholastic Aptitude Test," he said. "How will a food class prepare for her college? I am certain that she can learn the study of etiquette and table setting at home."

He also said in the letter that he believed most parents would agree with him but not have the time to voice their concerns and are "intimidated by bureaucracy."

Robert Craig, educator director, supported the program. He said that the home economics and industrial arts classes give students the opportunity to explore different areas of interest.

"The drop-out rate in two-year colleges is around 60 per cent," he said. "The average student changes his major in college four to seven times before he completes his degree. He spends the first two years shopping around for a major."

"The student hasn't had enough experience in varied backgrounds. Yet this proposal to discontinue the program would have the student decide whether or not to attend college at the seventh grade level," he concluded.

David Orozco, a parent, said Craig has misinterpreted objections to the program.

"The real issue is should parents and students be excluded from programs affecting us?" he asked. "We say no. We are asking for freedom of choice."

Craig said that many parents objected to the home economics and industrial arts requirements because such subjects are not prestigious.

"People think industrial arts and home economics courses are good for somebody else's children," he said. "For many students this will be the only chance they get to experience these subjects."

Court Consolidation Worries N. County

Fears that San Mateo County Municipal Court consolidation would erode local service and perhaps even increase costs were expressed during a North County Bar Association luncheon in South San Francisco Friday.

In a "feedback" session before County Supervisor John Ward, the North County lawyers and Municipal Court Judge Jose de Larios warned that consolidation, envisioned as an efficiency measure, might be counterproductive and urged that the issue be given more study.

Ward appeared as guest speaker at the luncheon not to advocate court consolidation, he said, but to solicit opinions on the issue from North County attorneys.

The supervisors again are considering recommending that legislation consolidating municipal courts be passed.

The board urged legislation on the issue last year, and Assemblyman Louis Papan, D-Daly City, sponsored it. However, opposition from the North County Council of Cities moved Papan to withdraw the bill.

Ward told the lawyers he was undecided at this point whether he would endorse court consolidation, but during the lunch he acted as the devil's advocate in an effort to force opinions to be aired.

Attorney Sid Lorian, also a Pacifica councilman, challenged the board to show how money would be saved by consolidation.

It's been my experience that in all cases unification of businesses and school districts has been a financial disaster. It seems when consolidation takes place everyone is elevated to a higher salary level.

"Consolidation, I believe, would destroy the local support we have today," he added.

Currently each of the three municipal courts, in Redwood City, San Mateo and South San Francisco central northern districts, are autonomous units, with their own chief clerks or court administrators.

Persons arrested must appear in the court of the district where they were taken into custody.

Consolidation of the municipal courts would eliminate autonomy combining the municipal courts under one system with one chief clerk. Persons arrested, or those wishing to contest traffic citations, could be ordered to appear in any one of the three courts throughout the county.

Additionally, with consolidation, municipal court judges could be required to hear cases in any of the district courts. Under the present system, municipal court judges cannot be moved from one district court to the other in the absence of legislation.

Asked by attorney Bob Lee if the mechanics of consolidating had been specifically worked out, Ward said they had not. "All the county has to go on now are models from other counties. Each county is different," Ward said. "We don't have a parallel situation."

"My concern," said Ward, "is that the North County not be hurt by consolidation. Right now the North County is not receiving services equal to the tax burden it carries."

Ward also suggested, in the absence of consolidation, a possible immediate remedy to the heavy case loads in the central district, the shifting of Millbrae and Burlingame, now in the central district, to the northern district. He said he would solicit opinions on the issue from all municipal court judges.

Judge de Larios warned Ward that the northern district would have trouble handling the additional loads without additional judges.

In reference to consolidation, Judge de Larios said he believed local service would suffer and costs would increase. He did not elaborate.

Pacifican Killed In Crash

One Pacifican is dead and another was booked on felony drunken driving and manslaughter charges after a two-car accident April 16 on Interstate 280, near the intersection of Highway 1, south of Daly City.

California Highway Patrol officials said William Floyd Mosley, Jr., 54, 608 Forest Lane, was killed when his vehicle, stalled on the shoulder of the road, was involved in a collision with a car driven by Emmeray B. Pollicar, 29, 493 Lynbrook.

Authorities arrested Pollicar following the accident and he was taken to San Mateo County jail in Redwood City.

In another North County accident, 25-year-old Charles A. Cockrum, of 1021 Larkspur, Burlingame, is reported in satisfactory condition in Peninsula Hospital after sustaining fractures of his left wrist and right ankle when his motorcycle overturned.

San Bruno police said Cockrum apparently was unable to negotiate a turn, causing him to lose control of the bike and slide into a fence. The police report said Cockrum was traveling at high speed to negotiate the turn.

In another incident, Richard C. Olson, 28, of 1732 Rosemary Lane, Redwood City, died April 17 at Sequoia Hospital from injuries suffered April 2 when his car landed on top of him after somersaulting through the air on Woodside Road in Woodside. Coroner's Investigator Robert Bergstrom reported.

According to sheriff's deputies who investigated the accident, Olson missed a curve, lost control of his car, which flew through the air twice before landing on top of Olson, 45-feet off the road.

Olson is survived by his father, Charles.

Child Development at Head Start Program

"Head Start" with a staff composed of a head teacher, assistant teacher, social service health aide, work to produce a program atmosphere and establish a quality program for Daly City, Colma, Brisbane children and their families.

The program provides a comprehensive range of individual and classroom services that are critical to the child's development including medical, dental, and social services, nutrition, and daily activities. These are designed to meet the needs and develop the learning and experimental potential of each individual child. It gives the parent an opportunity to participate and gain a better understanding of the frame-work affecting their child's growth and learning.

A lonely church hall, at Grace Presbyterian Church, 515 Winchester St., Daly City, came to life January 1969 with 20 anxious and happy children.

They were excited, along with the staff, parents and community, that the new Head Start Program had finally become a reality after several months of planning. The project grew out of the need within the community for a child care program. September, 1970 was a month of planning and licensing the program. The city of Daly City was approached with a proposal for the donation of a playground, which was installed by the city. It was decided to cook meals at the center. During this time the South San Francisco and Pacifica Head Start Programs also were organized. Daly City Head Start had many trials and tribulations.

It survived with the assistance and dedication of the four staff members including Mrs. Betty Oliver, head teacher, and Mrs. Marlene Espinoza, health assistant. The San Mateo County Economic Opportunity Commission, the City of Daly City and many volunteers also helped to implement a program for improving the health, education and welfare of pre-school children and their families.

"Head Start was destined for Daly City and as I think back over the struggles in the organization and administration, it amazes me to know how it was all accomplished. However, with all the combined efforts, anything can be accomplished," said Mrs. Oliver, who will be leaving the program this month.

She has worked with the program since its beginning five years ago. Her husband, Cecil, as a result of a promotion, is being transferred to Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Faye Brown, Daly City Head Start food manager, has been with the program for three years and has since then been preparing approximately 100 meals per day. She cooks and manages the Nutrition program for Daly City, Pacifica, and South San Francisco Head Start Programs. She works under the direction of Mrs. Helen Tregning, Head Start Nutrition Health coordinator. Together with parents they plan well-balanced meals for the children. Mrs. Browne is assisted by Lloyd Ray, kitchen assistant and Noel Quintana, assistant cook, employed through the comprehensive Employment Training Act funds. Recently a film was produced about the Daly City HeadStart Central kitchen facilities and it will soon be shown on Cable T.V.

Through CETA funds, three positions were added to the program early this year. The employees are Quintana, Marlene Espinoza, and Lolita Keyes, assistant teacher. The most important way of enhancing the effect of the Child Development Center is to involve parents actively in the program, according to Mrs. Oliver. This promotes a closer more continuous relationship between young children and their parents. Studies indicate the length of time spent together is not as important as the quality of their relationship during whatever time they are together. Mrs. Oliver said, Mrs. Helene Ramirez, the Social Service Health aide works in assisting with health and social service needs of the family. She also is under the direction of Mrs. Tregning. Head Start funds provide for the medical and dental needs of the child. This assistance helps in the early detection and screening of health problems and learning disabilities.

Twenty children are enrolled in each of six Head Start centers throughout the county. There are 20 Head Start children at the Lawrence Child Development Center that is under the supervision of the San Mateo City Elementary School District. 20 children in the center that is in the Community Church of East Palo Alto on University Avenue. The sixth center is in St. Anthony's Steve Stanley, a Westmoor student and member of the Jefferson Union High School Honor Band, practices for forthcoming concert.

Honor Band Concert Set

The Jefferson Union High School District Honor Band concert will take place on Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Boy's Gym at Westmoor High School.

To end the observance of Public Schools Week, over 70 musicians selected from the district's five high schools will play music which they have been rehearsing once a week for the past seven weeks under the direction of Mr. Loeffler from Westmoor.

The music will range from the traditional music of John Philip Sousa's "The Free Lance March" through "Punch and Judy" by Henry Mancini. Then they will play lighter music such as "Set Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band" and end with the "William Tell Overture" by Rossini.

During the concert, the five high school music teachers will present the band members with special pins in recognition of their appointment to the Honor Band. Admission to the concert is $1 which will help to pay the cost of the pins.

Reading: 'A Joy At Every Season'

Why not give us a list of books for people in the golden years?

Okay. Reading has been recommended to people in "the rich mellow years" as "a joy at every season." To paraphrase Jean and Robert Hersey, who wrote a book entitled "These Rich Years," "Read in the hammock down by the brook in a lazy mid-summer afternoon or beside the fire on chilly winter days." Read any place, at home or abroad... the only ingredient needed for this delightful pastime is a book that captures you. Novels, poetry, philosophy, nature books, biography — no matter, any and all possess an extra dimension of pure pleasure.

To add to the enjoyment, the Herseys advise couples to read aloud to each other for "a particular kind of sharing."

Why not choose stories that have become classics. Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter," Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," Brontë's "Wuthering Heights," Hugo's "Les Misérables," Melville's "Moby Dick," Tolstoy's "War and Peace." These and hundreds of others are about adults and were written for readers whose experiences with life equip them to understand such novels and identify with the characters and their problems.

Why not discover poetry with all its beauty. Try Robert Herrick's gentle verses and Tennyson's soft rhythm. Read Milton, Browning, Bryant, Byron, Shelley, T. S. Eliot, Poe, Chaucer. You'll find music in their lines and wisdom in their words.

Turn to Shakespeare, as an adult read "Hamlet," "Macbeth," "King Lear," and "Othello." Read "As You Like It" and "Much Ado About Nothing" and "Richard III" and "Henry VI." Because of your maturity these plays and others by the Bard will open vistas of thought and beauty that will quicken your mind with pleasure.

CHOOSE FROM THE REALMS of non-fiction such books as Morison's "Oxford History of the United

Westmoor Hi Papan to Meet

Open House

Westmoor High School open house will be held Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the Westmoor Little Theater.

There will be nominations and elections of the new P.T.A. officers.

Visiting the class rooms will start at 7:30. A cake sale will be held and proceeds will be used for scholarships. Anyone wishing to donate a cake can deliver it to the school during the day or that evening.

Coast Demos

Assemblyman Louis J. Papan (Dem-Daly City) will be in Pacifica next Saturday, April 26, to attend the Pacifica Democratic Club breakfast meeting at the Muffin Mine Restaurant.

Club President Chuck Cooper said Papan was invited so that he and club members could discuss legislative matters affecting Pacifica and the coastline.

The meeting is open to the public and will start at 9 a.m.

States" or Churchill's "History of the English Speaking People." The volumes of Will Durant's "The Story of Civilization" loom large on the shelf but once opened they capture the reader so that he returns to them over and over.

In an age of science Darwin's "Origin of the Species" cries for re-reading. Read Durant's "Story of Philosophy," Thoreau's "Walden," Emerson's "Representative Men," Benjamin Franklin's "Autobiography," Hagen's "Mathematics for the Million."

In no sense no one can prescribe a list of books for another to read. Therefore, the best advice on the subject comes from Clifton Fadiman. He said each person should read "that which will make his life more meaningful and interesting, as a love affair does, or some task calling forth your deepest energy."

"Reading," he said, "is a tool of self-enhancement, a tool of self-discovery." Citing Socrates and Plato, Clifton Fadiman wrote that a great book is a midwife of ideas, "delivering to full existence what has been coiled like an embryo in the dark, silent depths of the brain."

For the reader — especially the reader in the golden years — public libraries employ trained readers' service advisers who can, if asked, match the reader with the right book. Such librarians ache to help you. Give them a chance.

Clean-Up Week Set in Daly City

The week of April 26 through May 4 has been designated as "Clean-Up Week" by the City of Daly City and the Scavenger Company in Daly City. The refuse disposal area will be open from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily for the free use of all residents.

The refuse area is located on the coast near Mussel Rock, at the southernmost end of Skyline Drive. The Daly City Scavenger Company asks that residents dump the trash in the designated area. An attendant will be on duty to direct the residents to the proper site. Proof of residency will be required.

The last two years were the biggest years yet for the annual campaign aimed at eliminating fire hazards in an around homes and for generally sprucing up the city.

Vehicles of all shapes and sizes pulled into the ocean-side dumping ground, depositing tons upon tons of refuse.

Sponsors of the event, besides the scavengers, are the chamber of commerce and the fire department, with backing from local merchants and homeowners associations.

Louanne Heath

Tonight, at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater of Balboa High School, retired coach Orron Qualls will show moves taken of the school and the students during the 1950s, and all members of the alumni are invited to attend and enjoy a bit of nostalgia.

Coincidentally, according to Mrs. Emily Powell Sumrall of the alumni association, this will be a planning session for the dinner dance to be held May 3 at the University of San Francisco, and anyone who would like to lend a helping hand with this big anniversary party is most welcome. Coffee, punch and cookies will be served and the alumni association will hold a brief meeting.

For more information call Mrs. Powell 392-8969 or 826-8046.

DR. MICHAEL D. RABBINO, M.D. the immediate past president of the San Mateo County Heart Association will review "Type A Behavior and Your Heart," a book written by Dr. Ray H. Rosenmann and Dr. Meyer Friedman, during the regular meeting of the Daly City Friends of the Library to be held tomorrow morning at 10 a.m.

The review, which will be held in the Coral Room of the Westlake library, will be preceded by a coffee hour hosted by Mrs. Klaus Tschorsing. Immediately following the presentation Dr. Rabbino will be honored at a no-host luncheon at the Board's Head in Serranito Plaza. Reservations for the luncheon may be made tomorrow morning with Mrs. H. C. Kincaid, the book review chairwoman.

All of the events, coffee, review and luncheon, are open to the public, and everyone is invited to take this opportunity to learn more about heart attacks as they relate to our behavior patterns. Dr. Rabbino has very impressive credentials. He is the coronary care unit director at Peninsula Hospital and has been recognized as a board Certified Internist and Cardiologist and is a Fellow of the American College of Cardiology. His book review, as well as his personal observations, are sure to be extremely interesting and pertinent to all our lives.

THE HEARING on County Revenue sharing will be attended by a large group of working mothers and members of the Daly City Community for Children's Services, D.C.C.S., when the gathering is convened tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Building, 996 Mission St. in Daly City. Mrs. Rhena Gonzalez, director of community relations for D.C.C.S., reports that the group is hopeful of obtaining funds for indoor and outdoor equipment for the projected Daly City Day Care Center and perhaps enough money to purchase a mobile unit for increasing on-site facilities.

Mothers who are interested in the day care center concept are urged to attend the hearing and express their concerns to the board.

FRIDAY is the deadline for reservations to the Mother-Daughter luncheon sponsored annually by the local chapter of the Alpha Iota alumnae.

According to Mrs. Barbara Wolowiec, chairwoman, the event will be held at Smorga Bob's in the El Portal Shopping center in San Pablo, on May 3 at 12:30 p.m.

Persons urging to attend are asked to call Mrs. Wolowiec, 681-0828, after 6 p.m.

Mrs. Virginia Stanghellini is the chairwoman and Mrs. Millie Dunow is assisting her with the organizing chores for this major benefit staged by the Mary's Help Hospital Guild each year.

Save the date, June 7, for this traditional salute to Spring and the fine work done by staff and administration of Mary's Help Hospital.

DO YOU THINK that individual stories and histories for different age groups, cultures and religions merit the attention of television? If you do you may be interested in hearing about "Teletory," the hope for a television ministry which is being nurtured by J. W. Gregg Messer, the interim minister of Lakeside Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

The Rev. Mr. Messer will outline his ideas at a "Fellowship" dinner to be held on Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the church located at 201 Eucalyptus Drive.

For information about the potluck dinner call 564-8833.

Hurry, call Mr. or Mrs. Israel Altosno immediately for reservations at 992-4862.

For many months of the Holy Angels parish Saturday will be a very busy day. The annual guild Day of Reflection will start early that morning at the Monte Avremo convent in Redwood City with The Rev. Father William Knapp moderating and that evening the Latin Club dance will provide a lively conclusion for a day of reflection and meditation. For reservations to the Day of Reflection call Mrs. John McCloskey, vice president, immediately.

DON'T FORGET, Serra District Boy Scouts are observing their Scout-O-Rama programs Saturday at Pier 2 in Fort Mason. The opening parade will be at 10 a.m. with exhibits and demonstrations lasting throughout the day.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks.

The markets have beautiful, shiny purple eggplant at a very good price these days, so it seems the right time to share a recipe using this delicious vegetable.

MOUSSAKA

- 1 large eggplant, sliced (peel if you wish)
- Salt
- Olive oil or salad oil
- 1½ pounds ground beef chuck
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, mashed or pressed
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon thyme
- 1 can (16 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1 can (1 cup) water

CREAM SAUCE TOPPING

- 1 cup butter
  - 1 cup flour
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 2 cups milk
  - 3 eggs, beaten
- Season eggplant slices with salt. Fry in a large skillet until brown on both sides (using a small amount of oil at a time). Drain eggplant on paper towels.
- While eggplant is browning, cook the one and one-half pounds ground beef, onion and two cloves garlic in skillet. Add the one and one-half teaspoons salt, one teaspoon sugar, one teaspoon thyme, sixteen-ounces tomato sauce and one-cup water. Blend well and simmer slowly for about 30 minutes.
- Make the Cream Sauce Topping in this manner: Melt the one-third cup butter in a saucepan, stir in the one-third cup flour and one teaspoon salt. Gradually add the two cups milk and cook over medium heat until thickened. Remove from heat.
- Beat the three eggs in a small bowl, stir in a few tablespoons of the cream sauce. Then gradually add the eggs to the cream sauce, stirring steadily.
- Using a 9x13-inch baking dish, layer the fried and drained eggplant in dish, spoon the meatsauce over the eggplant. Finally cover evenly with the Cream Sauce Topping.
- Bake in 350-degree oven for about 45 minutes or until bubbling hot and nicely browned.

first recipient in Northern California of the David Ben Gurion Award, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Israel Bonds Organization and the 27th anniversary of the modern State of Israel.

Co-chairmen for the annual Independence Dinner were the San Francisco Supervisors Quentin

L. Kopp and Robert H. Mendelsohn. Some $25,000 in Israel Bonds were sold, an increase of 40 per cent over the 1974 total, and the highest amount ever sold by Golden Gate Lodge.

The dinner was coordinated by the Lodge's Israeli Chairman, first vice president elect, Howard Shmuckler.

Gust Wins Permit For Motel Job

Nick Gust, the controversial restaurateur and former Pacifica mayor, was awarded his old building permit by the City Council and may now continue work on his 92-unit motel at Rockaway Beach, near his well-known Nick's Restaurant.

It was the last hurdle for Gust. The motel had aroused a controversy among environmentalists who saw a chance to stop it when the Coastal Zone Conservation Commission was born in 1972 and the motel was in the foundation-laying stage just as it is today.

The CZCC halted its construction and Gust's financing dried up. The road back has been long, through obtaining funds, getting a CZCC exemption for his $2 million project and now the building permit. It was noted. The latter was issued in 1972.

PLAYTIME

Laguna Salada Slates Signups

Kindergarten registration for the 1975-76 Laguna Salada School District year will be held the week of April 28 to May 2.

On April 28, registration will be held between 4 and 4:30 p.m. All schools will accept registrations between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., April 29 through May 2.

A night registration will not be held this year. Children are eligible for kindergarten for the 1975-76 school year if they are 4 years and 9 months of age on or before Sept. 1, 1975, or 5 years old on or before Dec. 2, 1975. Parents are reminded that registration will not be complete without proof of the child's age. Take this proof with you at the time of registration.

The state law requires that such proof shall be in the form of a birth certificate or certified record, a baptism certificate, a passport, or a notarized affidavit of a parent, guardian, or custodian of child.

Parents are required by law to list name, address and phone number of responsible person to be contacted in case of emergency by the school. This should be a local resident.

All kindergarten parents may register at the school located nearest to their home, with the following exception:

Pedro Point and Rockaway Beach residents register at Cabrillo School.

Legislation makes it mandatory that evidence of immunity to measles (Rubeola) be presented as a condition for first admission to school in California (Health and Safety Code Section 3400). This requirement became effective Jan. 1, 1968.

Legislation also makes it mandatory that evidence of immunity to polio, diphtheria and tetanus be presented as a condition for admission to school in California.

Legislation passed in 1971 requires evidence of immunity to diphtheria and tetanus as a condition for first admission to school in California.

Registrations will be accepted, even though measles, polio and diphtheria-tetanus immunizations have not been obtained. However, actual enrollment in school in September will be dependent upon completion of immunization or claim of exemption.

Physical examination forms will be provided at the time of registration in order to provide sufficient time for their completion prior to September.

Coast Councilmen Nix Therapeutic Pool

It appears that a small "therapeutic" swimming pool in Pacifica is out, but that the planned 25-meter pool at Oceana High School will go ahead, the Pacifica City Council determined April 14.

The decision was more or less made for the council by an emphatic "no" last week from the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees, which said it wouldn't expand the joint pool-tennis courts venture with Pacifica to include the therapeutic pool at Oceana.

"If we want to go ahead it will be at our own expense," Mayor Stan Farber told a small crowd of dissatisfied observers.

The voters approved a bond issue last November for the 25-meter pool at Oceana and tennis courts at Terra Nova High but there was talk also about the small therapeutic pool for handicapped at Oceana and some still hoped it would be built.

But there just isn't the money now, City Mgr. Donald Weidner said, adding he didn't see any point in a suggestion to have an architect do a study for $1,500 to $2,000 to see if it was feasible to redesign the pool complex layout to include the smaller facility, which itself would be costly.

Kenneth M. Faria, 975 Anza Drive, said angrily that his alternatives to losing the small pool would be "keep bitching, file a taxpayer's suit or move out of the community."

Fred Howard, a planning commissioner speaking as a private citizen, said he was "a little tired of telling people they will get something when they don't. Now I have to tell them something else."

The council also got a detailed look at the plans for the eight-court tennis layout at Terra Nova, which will be the city's first lighted courts, and unanimously approved a $236,650 budget for construction, which Farber said he hoped would be under way by July.

Architect James Coke of Sausalito outlined the split-level courts and recommended metal halide lights, which take about five minutes to go on or off but use a third less energy than instant-on types.

The question of pay boxes for those who want to play over the night was put over as "getting ahead of ourselves," as Councilman Aubrey Lumley put it.

Scott Riewerts of the Youth Advisory Committee asked about the pay boxes. Farber suggested 11 p.m. cutoff was set "arbitrarily" and said, "I'm sure if people want to play at 1 a.m. the nominal cost of electricity compared to the cost of construction would let us keep it open 24 hours a day." Electricity would cost $1,300 a year, Farber said.

Pacifica Seniors Plan Busy Month of May

By JOHN CURRY
Pacifica's busy Seniors in Action group has begun planning for its observance of Senior Citizens Month in May, with its arts, crafts, and hobby show to be at Pacific Manor Shopping Center, May 16, 17 and 18. The show will be among a long list of activities for the six-month-old Seniors in Action, sponsored by the Pacifica Parks, Beach and Recreation Department as an informational and referral agency for the three organized senior citizen clubs in the city, the Fifty-Plus Club, Los Pacificans and Glenhaven Club. There are an estimated 2,000 Pacifica residents over age 60, and the Seniors in Action has been involved in one way or another with about 400 of them, 200 with direct services such as information, referral and transportation, according to group Director Beverly Brice.

Original funding for Seniors in Action was through a State Office of Aging grant, supplemented earlier this week by a $2,129 appropriation by the Pacifica City Council from the city social service fund.

There are organized activities going much of the time for Pacifica seniors, most of them at the Oddstad Center at Oddstad Park.

This week, for instance, there will be crafting, gift ideas and sewing at Oddstad and a bus trip to Bay Meadows Race track.

A Chinese cooking class Wednesday; bridge, crochet, sewing and a soup lunch at Oddstad and a shopping round Thursday; and a shopping tour of Tanforan Shopping Center and the Pacifica Spinrift Players production of "Mousetrap" Saturday.

April 25 also is the deadline for signups for exhibitors in the May arts and crafts show. Volunteers are being sought to staff the show.

The Pacifica seniors also will exhibit in the county-wide arts and crafts display of senior citizens at Tanforan May 30 and 31.

CHECKERS

For something not too strenuous, Pacifica senior citizens can play Chinese checkers. Mrs. Elizan Eddy, 77, is shown here moving while Mrs. Lulu Wilson, 98, the oldest member of the group, waits her turn.

A QUILTER

Mrs. Eva Spraker, 87, is one of several in a quilt-making group, with the finished quilt to be offered for sale at the Seniors in Action Arts, Crafts and Hobby Show May 16, 17 and 18 at Pacific Manor Shopping Center.

Vallemar Principal Is Shifted

Douglas Morgan, principal of Vallemar School, was appointed principal of Pedro Valley School in an administrative reshuffling by the Laguna Salada School District Board of Trustees Thursday night.

Morgan will replace Sam Buel, Pedro Valley principal since the school was built in Pacifica 17 years ago. Buel has announced his retirement, effective July 1.

The new principal at Vallemar will be John Bogie, who will continue in his present post as district science curriculum consultant.

In other business the board approved a 177-day calendar for the 1975-76 school year and the joint city-district after school sports program for a fourth year, the latter basically the same as this year.

Parking Lot Hearing Set

The Daily City application for a conditional use permit for the 250-space parking lot adjacent to the BART Station will be heard by the San Francisco Planning Commission May 1, in Room 282, San Francisco City Hall.

WANT AD WEEK

This week, in celebration of International Want Ad Week, The Times has been featuring students from some of the schools that participate in The Times' Newspaper in the Classroom Program, studying the Classified Section. Many of the teachers who use the Newspaper in the Classroom Service teach a regular Newspaper Unit as part of their classroom activity. In the Newspaper Unit, students study all of the various features and components of the newspaper, including the Classified Section.

WANT ADS WORK WONDERS is this year's International Want Ad Week theme. And, in order to demonstrate some of the "Wonders" of the Classified Section, we have presented, during the past week, five different "success stories", one each day, from satisfied Classified customers. One story was from someone who rented a room immediately after the ad ran; another was from someone who sold their 1968 Volkswagen the first day it was advertised; one was from someone who sold all of their household furniture through an Action Ad; another was from someone who rented an office; and, another was from someone who sold their furniture and household appliances.

Results like these bring comments like "the phone was literally ringing off the wall with responses to this ad" and "the ad brought results beyond my wildest dreams." These best express how "Want Ads Work Wonders."

If you have a product or service to advertise, why not learn about the wonders of Classified Advertising. Call a Times' Classified Advertising Representative today, she'll help you with your ad.

TYPE	FAT CONTENT OBJECTIVE
Ground Beef	Approximately 25%
Extra Lean Ground Beef	Approximately 16%

Even with the most modern equipment and technology now available it is not possible to guarantee that every package will be at the fat content objective. Despite our best efforts, variances of up to five percentage points may well occur.

Our objective is that a pound of Ground Beef contain approximately 12.0 ounces of lean meat, and that a pound of Extra Lean Ground Beef contain approximately 13.4 ounces of lean meat. Tastes differ respecting the desired degree of leanness, and taste may well determine which type you select. The cost conscious shopper should remember that the cost per ounce of lean meat is lower in Ground Beef than in Extra Lean Ground Beef. Lucky ground beef - like all meat at Lucky - carries Lucky's Bond. Lucky Bonded means guaranteed customer satisfaction. If you are not fully satisfied, we will refund your money promptly.

Council Backs Alario

"I lost my shirt." South San Francisco City Manager Edward G. Alario told the audience at the Wednesday night city council meeting.

Alario was going on public record once again to explain recent bankruptcy proceedings which he initiated as a result of a business failure in 1972.

The matter came to light two weeks ago when Alario filed for bankruptcy and a federal court date of April 22 was set for a meeting with creditors.

Robert Anderson, 3937 Fairfax Ave., representing the Vigilant Voters Committee, had asked City Atty John Noonan to investigate Alario's financial dealings and the possibility of a conflict of interest involving Councilman Warren Steinkamp, who is a co-holder of a second mortgage on Alario's home.

"I hope there is no reflection on Alario's effectiveness as a city manager," Anderson said.

Noonan replied that his investigation of the case would be completed by Friday.

No one has questioned Alario's effectiveness as a city manager, a post he has held since November, 1973. Alario was owner of a computerized credit bureau from 1970 to mid-1972, going from there to become South San Francisco city finance officer.

DC Man's Invention Promoted

Allan V. Tesberg of Daly City is putting his money where your mouth is. Tesberg, according to Lawrence Peska Associates of New York, N.Y., has developed an invention which is now being introduced to manufacturers.

The marketing firm says of Tesberg's work:

"The invention consists of a new and useful dental floss holder and applicator in which a supply of floss in a container is held in the handle and the string of floss passes through an opening to be aligned on and parallel arms extending from the handle body.

The dental floss bridges the gap between the two arms, being easy to guide between the teeth for improved dental hygiene. This device is easy to use, being neat and not messy. It is simple in design, easy and economical to manufacture, and fulfills needs not adequately met by other dental floss holders and applicators. A cutter on the bottom face of the handle permits the user to parallel ever the dental floss thread. The device is easily refilled when necessary.

"It is compact and lightweight, easily carried in pocket or purse or stored in the bathroom cabinet. It is sturdy and assures long and satisfactory use, and is sanitary and hygienic in use."

No Tax Windfall Expected

There will be no "windfall" of new tax revenue from newly increased property assessments for the 1975-76 fiscal year, if over City Manager Edward G. Alario told the South San Francisco City Council Wednesday night in response to a question.

New residential property assessments are running up to 40 per cent, but it could take four or five years to upgrade all the industrial property in the city, some of which hasn't been reassessed since 1967, Alario said.

"I doubt that the overall increase will be 10 per cent or over, considering the commercial and industrial property base, the city manager said.

But there may be a possibility of reducing the tax rate for the 1975-76 fiscal year, based on preliminary calculations, Alario responded to a question from View Mayor Leo Padreddi.

The budget will be tight, in any case, because of rising costs. A cost of living increase for city employees would be 11.9 per cent, "and I don't know if we can meet this," Alario said.

"We'll know where we are in two or three weeks on budget requests and revenue estimates," he said.

JAPAN DUTY

FUSSA Japan - Airman First Class Rudy M. Del Rosario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benito Del Rosario of 3691 Gilbert Court, South San Francisco, has arrived for duty at Yokota AB, Japan.

"I lost $80,000 of my own money," he told the audience. "As a city manager, I have no problem with my personal affairs. Experience is the best teacher, and I think it helps my ability to run the city. You get a much better insight after having the living hell kicked out of you."

"My records are open and I have nothing to be ashamed of," he continued.

Councilman Frank Mannini also scolded Anderson for making it "sound sinful to go bankrupt." Harry S.

Truman and J.C. Penny once went through bankruptcies and went on to prosper. Mannini pointed out.

Steinkamp recently explained his loan to Alario as strictly a business deal, with no conflict of interest on city business involved. The council generally has supported Alario.

While at the podium Wednesday, Anderson also indicated his group would circulate a petition asking for a referendum on the proposed new lease plan for a public safety complex.

Colma Man Arrested

A Colma man was arraigned in South San Francisco Municipal Court April 16 on charges of felony drunken driving and felony hit-and-run.

San Bruno Police allege Michael Dulac, 26, drove his car into a San Bruno Avenue signal light standard, which fell onto a crossing guard who was standing at the corner of Third and San Bruno Avenues Monday-afternoon. Police allege that after the collision Dulac left the scene.

Papan Wants BART Study

A comprehensive regional study aimed at developing alternatives to extending BART to San Jose has been proposed in the state Assembly.

A number of studies have been done, but the data is not directly comparable," Assemblyman Louis Papan, D-Daly City, said Wednesday. "My bill would provide for a comprehensive overall regional examination of the entire West Bay Corridor - San Francisco to San Jose."

He said that in addition to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District BART, the major alternatives are upgrading Southern Pacific Commute Service and express buses.

"It is imperative that the transportation planning process be expedited. This regional study of the West Bay Corridor was scheduled for sometime in the future - however, I feel it cannot wait," Papan said.

"The rising price of gasoline, the creation of transit districts in Santa Clara and San Mateo counties and the clear need for public transit alternatives combine to make this legislation vitally necessary."

"Local governments are giving transportation a high priority. I feel the state should cooperate to assist these local jurisdictions in developing a comprehensive regional approach to transit problems along this vital corridor," Papan said.

Gasoline sales tax money in the Transportation Research and Planning Account would pay for the study, he said.

Le Pacini The Warriors Statistically

Following is the Warriors' season as seen statistically through individual performances expressed in the Pacini method of interpretation, i.e., figuring all stats on the basis of a complete NBA game of 48 minutes, rather than on a straight "per game" basis which doesn't take into consideration the number of minutes played per game.

FG-PCT	FT-PCT	REB	ASST	STL	BLK	AVG-PTS
Barry	46.4	90.4	6.8	7.3	3.40	49.9
Wilkes	44.2	73.4	12.8	3.5	2.04	42.2
Beard	52.9	83.2	6.0	6.6	2.50	42.1
C. Johnson	41.2	73.5	6.9	5.1	3.04	41.8
Ray	32.2	60.2	16.6	3.4	1.80	22.0
Mullins	45.5	81.6	5.2	6.4	2.40	20.0
Smith	47.6	80.4	6.4	6.1	2.80	20.0
Dickey	48.2	66.7	14.2	3.2	1.30	19.9
G. Johnson	47.6	65.9	19.2	2.2	1.07	15.0
Dudley	47.0	72.2	9.2	6.5	2.50	13.4
Brace	41.5	65.8	5.4	7.3	2.00	11.8
Bridges	41.7	25.0	17.8	1.8	1.80	0.00

Rich Barry, of course, played by far more minutes than any other player, although he didn't play every game, missing two down the stretch. An interesting statistical quirk showed up in that category. Keith Wilkes, Butch Beard and Cliff Ray, three of the four Warriors who participated in every game, all averaged the same, 30.7 minutes.

George Johnson, on the other hand, averaged 19.2 minutes per game. Barry averaged 40.4 in his 80 games. That solid front of playing time was, as we indicated in earlier columns, one of the reasons for the unexpected Warrior success story. A minimum of injuries to key players is possibly the most important factor in any championship race in any sport. Dickey, who was the Warriors' "sixth man," missed only two games, both inconsequential affairs in early season. The two Barry missed, though in the stretch run, were relatively unimportant and easy games. Charles Johnson, the starting guard opposite Beard, missed only three games.

As we've indicated in the past, the above statistical method can produce some distortions, but that doesn't set it apart from any other statistical system. And, like other systems, it doesn't show all there is to show about defense, and doesn't take in the important intangibles such as leadership, spirit, etc. But we feel that it does show more succinctly who is doing what of value than all of the other methods.

You can draw your own conclusions from the above chart, of course, but one major one we've drawn is that Charles Johnson should be the guard coming off the bench next year, and Phil Smith the starter. And perhaps Charles Dudley should get in more important playing time.

Another stat which doesn't show up in our chart is the combined efforts of Clifford Ray and George Johnson at the pivot, a factor in the Warrior success which can't be overlooked, as we pointed out in a recent column. Together, they averaged, per game, 17.6 rebounds, 13.8 points, 3.0 assists, 1.6 steals, and 3.1 blocks, figures which, if logged by any individual, would be considered a helluva season for a center.

Team statistics, especially those of the Warriors, it seems, are much more subtle, and possibly more interesting and significant. They follow, on a per game basis, minus a very important stat which is not set out above: turnovers. Unlike the individual stats, we also reprint here last season's team stats for comparison purposes.

	FG-PCT	FT-PCT	REB.	ASST.	STL.	BLK.	AVG.PTS
OFFENSE	46.4	77.8	53.8	24.25	8.2	5.5	109.9
DEFENSE	45.3	76.1	47.9	24.70	8.7	5.7	107.3

	1974-75
	FG-PCT	FT-PCT	REB.	ASST.	STL.	BLK.	AVG.PTS
OFFENSE	46.5	76.8	52.1	25.3	11.9	4.5	108.5
DEFENSE	45.6	75.4	46.9	25.4	9.7	4.7	105.2

Seemingly, hardly any difference, is there? Yet we all know that the Warriors of this season were vastly superior to the Warriors of last year. Weren't they the best team in the West this year? Didn't they have the third best record in all of the NBA, win almost 60 per cent of their games, and finish one game behind the team with the third best record? And didn't they come in second place in their own division last year, a distant third game from the Lakers? Therefore, shouldn't there be a much more dramatic difference in statistics? Well, the Warriors are, in our opinion, a much better team than last year's. But still they won only four more games this year than they did in '73-74. But that doesn't indicate that the improvement of the Warriors has been an illusion, but only serves to illustrate the delicate balance in the NBA, the tenuous thread between being a winner and being a loser. Thus, the apparently slight but truthfully big difference in the stats.

Actually, a close look at the stats reveals that offensively, the Warriors fell as a team in four of the seven categories listed, including the apparently all-important and often overlooked areas, assists and steals, and the difference in steals was dramatic. This of course indicates better team work and a much better hustling defense. Now look again and you'll see that the Warriors improved in four of the seven defensive categories, especially in points allowed, a difference of 2.1 points per game, which, though it doesn't seem so, is quite a dramatic improvement.

Last year the Warriors were better than their opponents in four of the seven categories. This year they beat opposition in five of the categories, and one of their "losses," in assists, was as slight as it could be.

Overall, the Warriors gained about three-quarters of a point per game on their opponents (last year, there was a per-game difference of plus 2.6 between what they scored and what they allowed to be scored, while this year it was 3.3), and in the NBA, that virtual one point difference per game can truly be the difference between a championship team and an also-ran... and in the Warriors case it has been.

CONCLUSION: Obvious. The Warriors kept their enemies from doing some of the things this year that they got away with last year. And didn't do nearly as many things to themselves that they self-inflicted last year. When we get the turnover stats, we believe this latter theory especially will be found to be true.

All the "experts" this year — including yours truly — made much over the Warriors' losing Nate Thurmond, Clyde Lee and Cazzie Russell through various machinations, and how well it not miraculously they survived the losses of such quality players. And it was justified praise of the Warriors. What hardly anyone mentioned was the loss of guard Jim Barnett through the expansion draft. Barnett might not be quite the league of those mentioned above, and he probably wouldn't have started this year, but he still would have been valuable coming off the bench. Barnett, on his good nights, can be an electrifying player, the kind of player who can pull a "dead" team out of the doldrums. He's erratic, but he's still one of the best drivers in the game, on certain nights can shoot the eyes out of anyone guarding him, can be very tough defensively on some matchups, and besides that, his color never hurt the game and Jimmy Gutt can be used as a "police man" on some of the league's dirtier guards.

LOCAL NOTE: Eddie Montague Jr., a Westmoor grad, umpired major league games during spring training and will be handling the Pacific Coast League during regular season for the second straight year.

OLA to Face St. Robert's

By JOHN MURPHY
Correspondent

Burlingame may have a decent chance of defeating unbeaten St. Robert's Thursday — if it can get a hit.

Hits have been scarce this season against a talented St. Robert's pitching staff. In fact, in the last 17 innings they've been downright nonexistent.

The hitless string began with four as Terry Noonan on the mound against Holy Angels in the third inning of a game April 13. After a hit in the second inning, Noonan allowed no hits over the final five frames in a 4-0 win.

The following Thursday, the San Bruno eighth grader tossed a seven-inning no-hitter against All Souls as the Bears captured a 3-2 decision.

Sunday at Washington Park in Burlingame, St. Catherine's may have breathed a sigh of relief when they saw Noonan warming up to play catcher in pre-game activities. Scheduled to pitch for the San Bruno School was a first baseman named Andy Pudlow who had never taken the mound in a St. Robert's uniform.

With an assortment of fastballs, curveballs and screwballs, the burly left-hander kept the Tigers out of the hit column five innings, until the game was called, with the Bears leading, 9-0, because of a time-limit in the sixth.

Thursday's game at Capuchino will be a replay of the April 2 battle between OLA, now 6-0, and St. Robert's (7-0). The 9-0 tie was a slugfest which included a combined 16 hits, 11 walks and nine errors.

The lead changed hands three times before the San Bruno team rallied from an 8-4 deficit going into the bottom of the sixth, to finally tie the game in the seventh — when a run scored from third with two outs on an overthrow from the catcher to the pitcher after a pitched ball.

OLA has been improving each week, and on Sunday they honored a respectable St. Timothy's squad, 12-0, behind the pitching of right-hander Danny O'Leary. Earlier in the season it had taken St. Robert's 10 innings and a combined three hits by Noonan and seventh grader Tim Finnegan to beat St. Timothy's, 3-1. The Angels are paced by a trio of basketball standouts who led the Burlingame school to a Peninsula Parochial School League hardcourt title this past winter.

They are pitcher-shortstop O'Leary, third basemen-shortstop Bill Healy and catcher Dan Burri. Ray Mason is also a possible starting pitcher along with O'Leary.

The Angels would love to upset St. Robert's and gain the opportunity to duplicate their heroics. However, even if they should win Thursday, they still must face rugged Mater Dolorosa on Sunday in their final regular season game while the local team draws a bye.

Thus, the chance of a special playoff game to determine the champion should a tie occur at the conclusion of the regular season, is a possibility, although improbable. St. Robert's has shown little sign of faltering in the past few outings.

The Bear hopes for a Northern Division title and an undefeated season are dependent upon the over-coming and sometimes erratic arm of Noonan. He carries a 4-0 record and an .051 earned run average into the game.

In 41 innings he has amassed

YOU'RE OUT

101 strikeouts, delivering 42 walks, while throwing five complete games including two no-hitters and two one-hitters. In addition, he leads the Bears in hitting with a .300 average, 112-24 and had a grand slam in the first inning of the first confrontation. Even so, the Bears may have a strong lineup with Pudlow in the mound, seventh-grader Mike Marty at first and Noonan behind the plate.

Vital English Class In SSF By Red Cross

Red Cross Vital English is designed to help Spanish-speaking persons learn basic conversational English. It may lead to a job. It may make day-to-day life shopping, talking with teachers and physicians, a little easier.

The Red Cross South San Francisco Service Center is now in need of a volunteer coordinator for their Vital English program, started nearly two years ago in the South San Francisco community.

Because Spanish-speaking residents have indicated an increasing need and desire to communicate, the Vital English program in South City is growing.

"A coordinator would work one or two afternoons a week taking requests from Spanish-speaking residents recruiting volunteer teachers and matching students with teachers," said Carole Shultz, chairman of Volunteers for the Service Center.

"Fluency in the Spanish language is not a requirement for the coordinator because there is a Spanish-speaking Red Cross volunteer."

Donor Luncheon Is Scheduled

Orah Chapter, Pioneer Women's president, Mrs. Abe Mordokowicz announces the 10th annual donor luncheon this year will be held at the newly built San Francisco Racquet Club on April 30.

No-host cocktails will begin at noon, with lunch immediately following. Mrs. Mordokowicz will introduce Rabbi Ira Book, the spiritual leader of B'nai Israel, Daly City, who will lead the Daly City-San Francisco group in the blessing before meals.

Advance reservations are necessary and may be made by calling Mrs. Roy Frank at 681-5776. Mrs. Mel Mosk and Mrs. Leonard Norack are in charge of the annual auction.
